The Sox made two runs in the third nning and the Yanks one. E. Collins singled and was forced by Weaver Jackson plastered a slow ball to right for three bases, scoring Collins, and scor left field and dropped a high fly from unhappy Happy Felsch. The Yanks made their run on a pass to Ruth, a twobagger over third by Meusel and a long two-bagger by Bodie.

Meusel's hit provoked a long wrangle. Ruth, after being allowed to score, was sent back to third. The White Sox ran around in circles beseeching the umpires, and those two, after consultation, sent Ruth back. The ball, after passing third. took an erratic twist to the corner of the grandstand and then was picked up by ground attendant, which made it a blocked ball. The runners under the rule were entitled to keep going with no play on them until the ball had been returned to the pitcher in his box, for the ball was instantly dropped by the attendant who blocked it, and Jackson picked it up. Nor was there any ground rule to limit the travels of the base runners and the action of the umpires in sending WASHINGTON, July 18 (American) -- Ruth back was purely arbitrary an without warrant. Happy Greeted With Hoots.

The fifth inning made the game pretty omfortable for the Yankees. In the Chicago half Peck stopped Felsch's ho one with his stomach, or some adjacen organ, and threw Feisch out. Pipp had to take the throw off the bag and touch Felsch on the line. The latter ran into him and shoved him back. Hoots for Hap the rest of the day. He acknowledged them by lifting his cap, thus exposing one of those haircuts for which part of the dome is cropped close, leaving tufts on top like a Houdan chicken and in this hirsute case revealing the in-

BERGEN BEACH BOATS RACE IN RAIN SQUALL Sail Yachts Enjoy Blow More

Than Power Craft.

With a fleet that numbered twentyfive power and eleven sail boats, the Jamaica Bay Corinthians resumed the sport of yacht racing under the burged of the Bergen Beach Yacht Club yesterday. Unfortunately, the day was not ideal. At the starting hour the sky was leaden and overcast. Just as the sailing divisions were finishing a nasty rain squall broke. The sailing divisions had a good race in a breeze that started in the south and backed into the southwest as the after-noon advanced. It was a decidedly better air than was enjoyed by the Ameri-ca's Cup boats on Saturday. There was Four water events of considerable importance took place yesterday at Lake hopatcong. N. J., in which, due to the efforts of H. Lotz of the Alamac A. C., several Olympic champions were competitors.

STRONG ENTRY FOR NATIONAL REGATTA

Winners in Several Races Will Compete in Olympics.

The entries for the national regatts, which will be rowed next Friday and Saturday on Lake Quinsigament Worcoster, Mass., were announced yes-terday by Secretary Nolan of the Na-tional Association of Amateur Oarsmen. This year the entry list is of high clasthough not as long as some former occasions. Unusual interest centres to the senior singles, doubles, fours and eights, as the winners in each of these contests will be sent to Antwerp, Belgium, to compete in the Olympic contests against the best carsmen that the rest of the world can produce.
